CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY TEXAS, THURSDAY November 17, 1960

10 PAGES TODAY

Weather, generally the topic of conversation when other things fail, has been most unusual this November.

Here we were without coats in Central Texas at a time when we would be thinking about Thanksgiving dinner and the Christmas season which follows.

Finally the temperature broke to a chill 53 degrees Wednesday morning, still a very pleasant late fall mark.

This brings to mind a trend that seems to have developed. The old cold winters of yore seem to be disappearing, even in Yankeeeland.

Oh, they still have freezing temperatures in the North and East, but they don't reach the frigid proportions of 50 years ago.

We have heard conversations in Cameron that discussed the colder temperatures and even snow that once were not so unusual in Texas. In the past 20 years, though snow is something we show our kids and say:

"Look, it's snowing."
And rightly enough, many youngsters look out in amazement at the soft, billowy stuff. And some today might offer: "Gee, Daddy what's that?"

101 - 101 - 101

In working on the Centennial edition of The Herald, feature writer Lloyd Albertson has surveyed microfilm records of The Herald dating back to 1895.

Problems of finding pictures and material for the period from 1860 to that date were overcome in part with the aid of pictures and stories brought in by a number of Milam Countians. The co-operation of many people, businesses and organizations is making possible our attempt at compiling a high - point history of Cameron, Milam County and The Herald.

We wish that we could produce more pages than will appear in this edition. So many facets of this area's history deserve development along with those key years.

The interest and support of hundreds of persons are paramount in the production of this edition. The Herald is appreciative for the 100th year, a milestone only a few newspapers have passed in the Lone Star State.

Bloodmobile Due For Visit Here Next Wednesday

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Cameron on Wednesday, November 23 from noon to 6 p. m. for its semi - annual visit to receive blood donations.

The operation will take place in the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The quota for this visit will be 70 pints of blood.

Richard Moseley, Cameron blood chairman, urges that everyone who is able volunteer a pint of blood at this time. He stated that with the approach of the holiday season - Thanksgiving and Christmas - when there are so many automobile accidents, the demand for blood increases tremendously.

If quotas are not reached there is the possibility of someone losing his life for need of blood.

A. C. Scofield, director of the Red Cross Blood Center in Waco stated that Cameron has exceeded its quota on the last four visits and Milam County is just reaching its quota.

A definite number of pints of blood must be donated on each visit in order to guarantee that sufficient blood will be available when needed by the residents of our county. This need is in direct proportion to the goal. Moseley said.

THE CROWD - The Homecoming parade ended with this pep rally on the Courthouse lawn in downtown Cameron. The parade featured floats by each of the classes in the school. The pep rally was conducted by cheerleaders Annette Dodd, Kay Harris, Marianne Jones, David Hudson and Marcelino Flores.

Chamber Expects Record Entries, Big Crowd Here

Cameron's annual Christmas parade will be 4 p. m. December 8 in downtown Cameron, according to Chamber Manager Jack DuBois.

Date for the annual parade was set in a recent meeting of the retail trade committee of the Cameron Chamber.

About 7500 people attended the 1959 Christmas parade.

The annual Christmas parade rivals any similar parade in the Central Texas area, Du Bois pointed out. About 50 floats, marching units, auto entries and bands entered the 1959 Christmas parade in Cameron.

Santa Claus, star of the Christmas season, will bring up the rear of the parade column and meet hundreds of Milam County youngsters at the Courthouse following the parade.

DuBois said initial response indicated that the parade will be bigger than ever.

Community and civic organizations have been invited to enter floats, DuBois said. Those businesses or organization who have not yet entered but wish to enter the parade are asked to contact the Cameron Chamber office by Monday, December 5, he added.

Cash prizes will be awarded by the Chamber of Commerce for the four best floats, judged on the following basis: Overall beauty, 40 percent; originality, 30 percent; workmanship, 20 percent; and theme, 10 percent. First prize will be $25, second $15, third $10 and fourth $5.

DuBois also announced that Cameron merchants voted to stay open each Thursday night in December until Christmas. The stores will remain open to 7:30 p. m. each Thursday during the month, he noted.

Last year Santa Claus arrived by plane after buzzing Cameron. And he gave away hundreds of sacks of candy to Cameron and Milam youngsters who visited with him.

Cameron will be decked out in Christmas decorations by parade day, a tradition in this city.

Board Purchases Heater, Deskchairs For City Schools

The Cameron School Board Thursday purchased a heater for O. J. Thomas School, 35 new deskchairs for Ada Henderson School and basket rack for physical education classes.

In other board action, the group approved a requisition for library books costing $311.79 for Ada Henderson School and $87.50 in science reference books.

The board also voted to approve a change in class schedules to start classes each day 20 minutes later at 8:40 a. m. Earliest school bus pickup will now be 7:17 a.m. instead of the previous 6:45 a.m. starting schedule in some parts of the school district.

The board also approved the Holt Company bid for letter jackets for band and football team members and approved the purchase of $157.65 in materials to improve the basket rack at Yoe Gymnasium.

AUSTIN — The state quota for Texas draft boards in December calls for 393 men, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, staff Selective Service director, announced Tuesday.

Col. Schwartz also announced that local boards would send around 1,500 men for pre-induction physical and mental examinations.

Local board quotas for the December call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

Civil Defense Basic List For Family Survival In Atomic Age

The following is the fifth in a series of Civil Defense articles presented by the Three Arts Club of Cameron, Ed.

Val Peterson, former Federal Civil Defense Administrator said:

"In all our planning we must remember that this is a job that fundamentally depends on the individual — the man, the woman, and the children of our country. Whether we survive will depend upon what we do in our localities and in our states and in our homes. This becomes even more apparent as advances are made in weapons and delivery systems."

With this in mind we present the following list of home preparedness points which each household should be able to check as completed.

- Know the warning signals and what they mean.
- Know my community plan for emergency action.
- Have selected our family shelter area.
- Have plans for emergency cooking.
- Have plans for emergency heating.
- Have plans for emergency lighting.
- Know what to do about radioactive fallout.
- Have a two - week supply of food and water.
- Have a radio which does not depend upon a commercial source of power.
- Know the Conrad stations, and am prepared to listen for survival instructions.
- Have a first aid kit.

Recapturing The Serenity Of A Time Long Ago

Sometimes on a quiet street of a sequestered village, one can sense the tranquility of yesteryear's simple life and sturdy virtues. Today's pace is faster, its problems more complex, but the church, so esteemed by our forbears can still contribute most importantly to our peace of mind. The church remains today as always, the keystone of happy contented living.

Salvation Army Serves Needy

This is the first of a series of articles on the agencies participating in the 1960 North Milam County United Fund. — Ed.) The Salvation Army, one of seven agencies participating in the North Milam United Fund, serves the needy in Texas and across the nation.

Here is the story of the development of the Salvation Army through nearly 100 years of achievement.

In reply to the query, "Just what do you know about The Salvation Army?" a leading Texas business man and member of the Salvation Army advisory Board in his city said:

"When I think of the Salvation Army, I have four mental pictures: a small band of uniformed men and women beating drums, blowing horns and singing and preaching on a busy street corner; a uniformed Salvation Army lassies ringing a bell and calling for contributions as she stands beside a kettle on the street at Christmas time; The Salvation Army lassies in the front line trenches in France serving hot coffee and donuts to the American G.I.'s; a large truck with the red shield of the Salvation Army painted on its side calling to pick up old newspapers and discarded articles of furniture.

Each of the four mental pictures is true to life. The Salvation Army does all three things -- and many, many more.

But let's start at the beginning. The story of The Salvation Army began 95 years ago. On July 2, 1865, the Rev. William Booth, a young Methodist minister, who had given up his pulpit in a fashionable London church to work among the poor and sinful, began his ministry in the slums of East End London. He first preached in a mission at Whitechapel Road; later in an old tent erected on the Quakers' burying ground in Thomas Street; and then in the open air at Mile End Road.

Here he found moral degradation and spiritual destitution; more than two - thirds of the working classes never crossed the threshold of church or chapel; tens of thousands totally ignorant of the Gospel. He summarized his observations like this:

"As they will not attend the means ordinarily used for making known the love of God for them, it is evident that, if they are to be reached, extraordinary methods must be employed."

And unusual methods he did employ, as the young minister, feeling the call of God in his heart, gave himself fully - time, talents, strength, spiritual force -- to the task of preaching to and helping to lead the teeming population of sinning and needy men and women along the paths of righteousness as he showed them the Christ as the hope of the world.

The Christian Revival Association was founded, which later became The Christian Mission, with the first headquarters opened in 1867 in Whitechapel Road. In October 1868 the East London Evangelist was founded, which in 1870 became the Christian Mission Magazine, and in 1879, The Salvation Army room mothers reconverted. In May 1878 the name "The Salvation Army" was adopted as most descriptive of his band of followers, and the Rev. William Booth became its General.

The Christian Mission had been popular, and The Salvation Army held that popularity and gained

Mr. and Mrs. George Winter, Union City announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Meek Winter, to Denson Brook Ermis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ermis of Cameron. The bride is a graduate of Rives High School and of the Baptist School of Nursing at Memphis and is presently employed in Memphis. The bride groom is a graduate of Yoe High School and Victoria Junior College and is now a senior at Southwest Texas State Teacher's College at San Marcos. The wedding is to be held at the Stanley's Chapel Methodist Church Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. with the Rev. William Mann, pastor of the church, officiating.

more. There were many converts, and under the zeal and religious fervor which each convert gained from the leader and founder, the movement soon spread throughout the British Isles.

Ambitious converts and workers soon began to look beyond the oceans for new worlds to conquer. Across the Atlantic American beckoned and on March 10, 1869, the first contingent of officers of The Salvation Army to be sent on an official mission to capture America landed at New York. The party consisted of Commissioner George Raitton and seven "Hallelujah Lassies" commissioned by General Booth to take America for The Salvation Army.

From this humble beginning in New York 80 years ago, The Salvation Army has swept across the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border and now maintains more than 1,100 uniformed corps in all fifty states, with a total of 8,549 centers of operation, which include all facets of service.

To direct this giant operation, there are more than 4,000 commissioned officers and over 10,000 full - time civilian employees, and many thousands of interested volunteers, part - time workers and friends of The Salvation Army who give valuable help and support to the organization's program.

The Salvation Army's purpose, as listed in the charter granted by the state of New York in 1899 and unchanged to this date are: "To operate as a religious and charitable corporation in all the States and Territories of the United States."

The following specific goals are listed: the spiritual, moral and physical reformation of all who need it; the reclamation of the civious, criminal, dissolute and degraded; visitation among the poor and lowly and sick; and the preaching of the gospel and the dissemination of Christian truth by means of open - air and indoor meetings.

Funds to support this work of mercy are made available through fund - raising campaigns conducted by each organized corps and each Service Unit. Each individual becomes a part of this world - wide movement that originated 80 years ago and now reaches into ever country and colony on the globe except those countries and colonies that keep

Care to go deer hunting?

A $25 contribution to the Newton Memorial Hospital building fund will clear the way for a one-day deer hunt on a 3,000 - acre ranch on the Milam Burleson County line.

Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., estimated that between 400 and 500 deer are on the ranch, which was stocked in 1954 and 1955. He said the deer had not been hunted on the ranch since it was stocked.

Each donation to Newton Memorial Hospital will entitle the donor to a one - day hunt on Milam Minnow Ranch, Dr. Newton said. It is between Caldwell and Milano.

Hunters can hunt in both counties, but only one deer per contribution will be permitted, Dr. Newton said.

Foundation work on the new Newton Memorial Hospital is underway with concrete pillars and framework being poured and set in place this week. Completion of the hospital is expected in about nine months.

Persons interested in deer hunting may contact Dr. or Mrs. Newton or the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Sue Wilborn of Jacksonville spent the weekend visiting her mother Mrs. Melvin Weems.

Mrs. J. W. Williams and Miss Bell Richardson of Waco spent Sunday with their sister Mrs. J. V. Eanes.

Mr. Valter White, Seal Campaign Chairman, urging all residents of Milam County to support the work of the local group pointed out that the association depends entirely upon Christmas seal sales for its support. The local Association helps purchase medicine and provides clothing for indigent patients who are hospitalized. It also responds to all requests of the state hospitals concerning patients from Milam County.

A&M Tigers Drop Yoemen

The A & M Consolidated Tigers whitewashed an injury-ridden Cameron Yoemen football squad 44-6 at Yoe High Athletic Field last Friday night.

The victory gave Consolidated, Cameron and Rockdale identical 3-1 won-loss records in district competition.

Highly touted quarterback, Condy Pugh threw two touchdown passes and completed 4 out of 8 for 101 yards in the air. The Tigers raked in almost 250 yards on the ground due to the efforts of speedy backs and an almost unpenetrable line in front of them.

The Yoemen went without the service of Ernest Bayer the entire contest due to a leg injury. Carol Fikes was carried off the field early in the second quarter with a leg injury and Ed Lierman played the game with a partially disabled arm and shoulder injury.

The capacity crowd for the homecoming tilt watched as the Tigers scored their first TD with two minutes and 20 seconds left in the first quarter.

Halfback Ozzie Burke went off his left tackle for 10 yards out for paydirt. The drive originated on the Tiger 29 yardline where Burke teamed with brother Cyril, and fullback John Pedigo to tote the pigskin deep in Yoemen territory.

The point after touchdowns attempt was an incomplete pass by Pugh.

After one minute and 12 seconds of play had passed in the second quarter Pugh hit end Bob Adams with a 62 yard aerial toss. The run over by Ozzie Burke for two points gave the Tigers a 14-0 lead.

Pugh intercepted a Jimmy Woodum pass on the Consolidated 35, minutes later to place the Tigers in scoring position. Several short runs and a 10 yard pass put Consolidated on the Cameron 38. Pugh completed a 38 yard pass to end John Williams for the 20th Tiger point. Bob Dymke blocked the extra point kick attempt. Consolidated took possession once more on a Cameron fumble, before the half ended with the Tiger 8 out front, 20-0.

Both teams were held scoreless in the third frame until the last two minutes of play when Hagler went off left tackle for two yards and six points. C. Burke went off left tackle for the two extra points as the Tigers took a 28-0 lead.

Ed Lierman tallied Cameron's lone TD early in the 4th quarter from the 4 yardline.

The drive started on Cameron's own 42 from where Lierman picked up 8 yards, Earl Morgan got 2 and Woodum hit Morgan with a pass good for 9 yards. Bobby Griswold fumbled in an 11 yard pass from Woodum to put the ball on the Tiger 13.

A 3 yard pickup by Lierman and three incomplete passes brought up a 4th down situation.

Billy Bates pulled the play of the night out of his hat when Woodum threw tackle Bret Sumate a pass good for nine yards. As a tackler Sumate is only eligible for passes when the ends are moved back and not eligible for the pass.

Lierman went over right tackle for the TD on the next play. An attempted PAT pass failed.

Ozzie Burke scored from one yard out off left tackle and Pugh completed a pass to Williams for the Tigers next 8 points.

Fullback Jim McAtee wrapped up the scoring for the night on a 5 yard plunge for Consolidated and Welch ran over the two extra points.

Pat Dillon called the plays for the Yoemen the last minutes of the game, going as deep as the Tigers 35 before losing possession of the ball to end the game.

Bobby Griswold, Bob Dymke, Chris Gay, and Bret Sumate paced the Yoe defenders.

Pugh and John Pedigo were the top defensive men for Consolidated.

Consolidated To Represent District

19AA Against Ducks

A & M Consolidated will represent district 19AA in district against the Taylor Ducks.

Rockdale and Cameron will be recognized as tri-city champs.

All teams have identical 3-1 district won-loss marks. Consolidated was selected by the toss of a coin. The decision came about Saturday morning in Rockdale where Yoe coach Bill Bates, Ray Birchfield and Ed Logan, Consolidated coach met with the school superintendents to flip.

Taylor has a perfect district record with no losses and are favored in the tilt.

The game will be held at Kyle Field, on Consolidated grounds. Gametime is 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Forty Boys Report For C Basketball

Harrison McLerran, veteran coach at Yoe High School reports that about 40 boys are out for the C team basketball squad. The squad will be made up of 7th and 8th graders.

Last year the 7th graders won 7 out of their 11 games and McLerran thinks they will make a fairly good showing.

Coach Jack Larimore will handle the 7th grade bunch. Larimore is head roundball coach and has high hopes of developing the youngsters into ballplayers at an early age.

The 8th grade team will be led by Lawrence Laffere, Phil Eanes, Mike Perrin, Dickie Ponder, and Judson Smith. Others who look hopeful are Robert Woodum, Frankie Dorner, David Mees and James Michalka.

Mack McKinney, James Hoskins, James Vogelsang, Paul Edmonds, Kenneth Angell and Douglas McFarland will head the 7th graders.

McLerran told the Herald that there are a number of smaller and inexperienced boys who will turn out to be most helpful. The traveling squads for both teams will consist of about 12 boys.

Coach Billy Bates Explains His Satisfaction In Winning

By Robert Mann
How does a new football coach feel when he guides a team with a 1-1-8 record from previous season, to a very successful season.

This was what we wanted to know when we quizzed Coach Billy Bates, 28, in his gym office. The Yoemen ended the season with a 6-4, won-loss record and were district tri-city champs.

Bates told us that a coach isn't satisfied when he loses four games out of ten. A drive for continuous improvement is characteristic of Yoe High School's grid mentor.

He credited the team's success to the boys and their attitude as a whole. "That's what gave us

Statistics Don't Always Determine Best Ball Player

Ed Lierman was the big name in the Yoemen backfield this year when it came time to average up the final statistics and see just where everybody stands.

Let us remind the reader that statistics don't always determine the best ballplayer. Often is the case when a young man will have a -5 average carrying the pigskin and yet throws the key block or make the key tackle that wins a ball game.

Lierman carried the ball 114 times in his 10 games for a 5.5 average. He garnered a total of 628 yards and scored 90 points, best in district 19AA.

Junior fullback Ernest Bayer was next in line with 42 points to his credit. He averaged 5.9, carried 99 times and totaled 591 yards, rushing.

Quarterback-halfback Carroll Fikes carried 84 times and averaged 5.5 per carry. His total yardage was 472. Fikes accounted for 30 Yoe points.

Earl Morgan, 140 pound Junior spied between defensive and offensive fullback, playing a little fullback at the tail end of the season. He carried the ball 19 times for 93 yards and a 4.8 average.

Here is an individual rundown of all the Yoemen backs. For more information look on the football information look on the football page.

Carries	Yds.	Avg.	Pts.
Lierman	114-628	5.5	90
Bayer	99-591	5.9	42
Fikes	84-472	5.5	30
Morgan	19-93	4.8	0
Doskocil	12-34	2.8	0
Wallace	3-13	4.4	0
Eikenhorst	4-3	0.7	0
Walston	7-30	4.3	6
Dillon	2-2	1.0	0

Lierman Rated Top 19AA Back

Despite numerous late season injuries Ed Lierman, not only paced Yoemen backs in individual statistics, but repeated this feat over every 19AA back.

Lierman scored a total of 90 at the left halfback position for Cameron. These TD's accounted for more than half of the squads total scoring.

Carrying the ball 114 times for 628 yards picked up, he was far and away the best running back in district. His final average was a 5.5.

The story behind the star reads like this: In Bellville-Cameron game two years ago a young half back suffered a cracked vertebrae in his neck, name: Ed Lierman.

A brace hindered the 16 year old for 6 months before he was free to participate in any sports activities. This is, if he cared to participate, few would.

He came back the next year and tried. However, the desire and spirit weren't there. At times the lean, 170 pounder appeared hesitant and unsure of himself, always fearful of that head-on contact that would put him back in a brace.

When this season rolled around, nothing spectacular was expected of Lierman. The statistics tell a different story.

The last game of the year he played with an injured shoulder that prevented him from playing any defense. Though the strong A & M line did their best to stop him he still led the Yoemen backs and scored their only 6 points.

If Ed Lierman never plays another football game, it is known by all that he has what it takes to get up and fight back after it appears the battle is lost.

Jack Larimore will get his first opportunity to operate on his own when November 29th rolls around and the Yoe High basketball squad will play its first game.

Larimore, a Cameron newcomer, has about three months of gridiron coaching behind him in Cameron, and will head the Cameron basketball program.

Harrison McLerran, veteran of the coaching staff will assist him with the A team, B team and coach the Ada Henderson 8th graders. Larimore will also take charge of the grammar school 7th graders in order to teach the younger class some real basketball before they reach high school age.

Larimore hopes to have about 30 Yoe High schoolers out for the roundball sports and appears to be in high spirits about the team's potentials.

David Barkemeyer, six-foot three inch senior will be the man to watch if he comes near to repeating his last year's performance in which he tallied a total of 334 points.

There will be a number of other basketballers from this team who will be discussed at length by Larimore in the near future.

Billy Bates, fresh from football season, is already planning work for his track, baseball and future football players.

Bates and Walter Johnson, his assistant coach, are planning a weight-lifting program in order to keep the school's athletes in shape throughout the winter months.

Cameron Firemen Cite Schiller, Robert Weems

The Cameron Volunteer Fire Dept. this week paid tribute to Oscar Schiller and Robert Weems, Cameron, for 35 years service in the Department.

Both men asked to be put on the honor roll of the Cameron Fire Department, vacating their posts for younger men.

Department officials said the two veteran volunteer fire fighters will still be active when there is a fire to be put out.

Weems and Schiller were cited with a poem paying tribute their service. It is called "The Volunteer":

"He wears no uniform of blue; He's just a common man like you. No flashy badge adorns his chest. To make him different from the rest. But when there's fire, smoke and flame; Then behold, he's not the same As you and I who stand aside When danger lurks and courage is tried. He'll die to save a human life, Perhaps your daughter, son or wife. He gets no pay from year to year, Still he's proud to be a volunteer."

Ideas, Tips For Fishermen

By Vern Sanford

Every time we talk to a fisherman we get another good idea. Here are some tips, picked up at random. You may find them interesting and perhaps helpful.

Keep the metallic parts of your lures polished brightly at all times. This applies especially to spoons and spinners. A dab of silver polish on a soft flannel cloth will do wonders to brighten your lures.

Store a few moth balls in your tackle box. They will help prevent hooks and other metallic parts of your lures from rusting.

Use a rod that is dark - either black or dark green. This will help prevent light from reflecting off the metal parts.

Needless to say, the same principle should be applied to the reel you are using. A brightly polished reel reflects a tremendous amount of light and reveals to the fish where you are.

Don't motor to the exact spot where you want to fish. Kill the motor about 20 feet short and paddle toward the spot in question.

Or, let the boat drift to the point where you want to fish. A silent approach is your goal.

A fault of some fishermen, says an angling friend, is that he is too impatient to see the fish which has taken his bait. In his anxiety, he lifts the fish up out of the water before he gets it alongside the boat.

Proper procedure is to keep the fish in the water, with the line fairly tight, until you have him within reach. Then lift him firmly but gently over the side and into the bottom of the boat.

Most fishermen let the fish play until fully exhausted, then lift him aboard, quickly. Because of the acrobatics which a fish can perform, when lifted free of the water, his chance of release is much greater than if he is kept in the water until the last moment, he has only the resistance which the water provides, unless he can dive among brush and rocks.

An acrobatic fish can fling a hook easily, while one that is in the water has only the possibility of diving deep and becoming entangled in brush or rocks and then pulling himself free.

Work an area thoroughly before moving your boat to another location.

Many fishermen recommend that casts be made short at first, then a little longer, then distant. Suggested procedure is to cast along the bank and around the boat from left to right, so that all the area is covered before moving to a new location.

Reason given for making a short cast first is that if you hook a fish, you will not disturb those beyond that catch. Then you have an opportunity to cast farther out and retrieve more fish.

One tip from a top-water angler - when the fish misses your lure (and you, of course, miss your fish) let the lure rest right where it is for a few moments. Then jerk it slightly so as to give it a "live" effect.

Try that two or three times, then reel in, light a cigaret and wait for four or five minutes before casting again. Then lay the lure right back in the exact spot where you had it before. There is a good chance that the bass is, by that time, back in his lair and ready to try again.

Another suggestion: If you la-

Will Congress Vote Moderate Bills?

Voting in the presidential election last week showed an interesting trend to moderation though John F. Kennedy, running on a liberal platform, won in the Electoral College vote count.

Final popular vote figures all but showed a 50-50 split over the two candidates. Kennedy's strength in Eastern cities carried him into the White House.

While the Democrats won the presidential race, Republican gains of about 20 seats in the House showed a reverse trend. A few additional seats went to the Republicans in the Senate. Thus a reverse of the trend when President Eisenhower was elected in 1952 has occurred. In that year, the Republicans carried by a large majority for president while both Houses of Congress began a shift to Democratic control that culminated in a huge majority in 1958.

The popular vote ascertains the American people's interest in a balance of government.

In Texas the Democratic win was by a margin of about 50,000 votes. The close balance held throughout most of the nation except for the Eastern United States. A wire service report following the election noted that President-Elect Kennedy would press for new liberalized legislation in defense, foreign policy, economics, agriculture, civil rights, education and welfare.

With the balanced voting as a matter of record and reminder, it is likely that the House of Representatives will be more moderate than might have been expected by either party. The House is the initiating body on matters of finance. The Senate considers bills after they are forwarded to the Senior House. Then a combined committee of House and Senate representatives usually meets to study the differences between the House and Senate position.

Legislation controlling finance is approved or disapproved by the Senate, then sent back to the House for final voting. And then they go to the White House for the President's signature or, in case of disagreement, veto.

Kennedy's proposals for legislative consideration in the seven areas of national concern have already been likened to the "100 days" legislation of the first Roosevelt administration. It will be interesting to see how the 1961 U. S. Congress handles the job.

Texans Ready For Issues, Decisions

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Shook, shocked and exhausted from one of the hardest-fought general elections in decades, Texans now can get a second wind and turn to new issues and decisions.

Some of the significant decisions ahead grow out of decisions made at the polls earlier this month.

As a result of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's election to the vice presidency, his senate seat will become vacant on or before Jan. 20. It's a highly coveted position, seldom up for grabs, since the winner of a six-year term can be fairly sure of holding it for life.

It is likely that the race for Johnson's post will be the first special election in Texas history to have a run-off. A 1957 law, called the Pool Bill, provided that in special elections for congressional vacancies, there shall be a run-off if no candidate receives a majority of the votes in the first pelling. Previously, special elections had been on a high-man-wins basis.

Many possible candidates are mentioned. Among them: John Connally of Fort Worth, Jack Cox of Brownsville, Martin Dies, Sr. of Lufkin, Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen, Wright Morris of Houston, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, John G. Tower, Johnson's Republican opponent in the general election, Atty Gen. Will Wilson and Congressman Jim Wright of Weatherford.

It is unlikely that any candidate will make a public announcement until Senator Johnson officially resigns and Gov. Price Daniel sets the date for the special election. Under the law, the governor must call the election in no less than 60 days and not later than 90 days from the time the vacancy occurs.

If Congress is in session at the time the vacancy occurs, it would also be the governor's duty to name an interim senator to serve until a successor is elected. Governor Daniel already has said that at former Sen. William Blakely would have first chance at such an appointment.

When the vacancy will occur depends entirely on Senator Johnson. There is speculation that he will not lay aside his senatorial toga until he takes the oath as vice president (Jan. 20). Many feel that his presence and assistance in organizing the Senate prior to that date would help get the incoming Democratic administration off to a good start.

OKAYED AMENDMENTS POSE PROBLEM

On the purely state level, voters' approval of the four constitutional amendments during the general election pose some new decisions and issues for the state legislators next January. Among them:

1. MORE PAY — FROM WHERE? — By constitutional amendment, voters have, for the first time in history, put members of the Texas Legislature on an annual salary.

They will be entitled to $4,500 a year, whether in session or not. They also are to get $12 a day expenses for 120 days of a regular session and for each day of any special sessions called thereafter. This replaces the old $25 a day pay plan.

Question is where to get the money. State's general revenue is, according to State Treasurer Jesse James' latest report, $60,335.63 in the red. By the time the next session starts, this figure is expected to be higher.

So, legislators will have to turn their attention quickly to a means of finding money somewhere else if they're going to meet their own grocery bills.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

A Stumbling Block In The Very First Step Towards Moving Forward

Dear editor:

Here it is only a week after the country has elected a new President and some things have already moved forward.

For example, the mail service — not the mail service generally, it's about where it always was and I don't have any complaints about it, but a particular idea for the mail service.

As I understand it, the post office department in Washington is experimenting with a new type of mail delivery in which you write

A letter on a special piece of paper, fold it into an envelope, drop it in a machine. The machine then opens it, looks at it, finds out where it's going, transmits it electronically to its destination, then tears up the original. On the receiving end, another machine reproduces it, seals it, and hands it over to the local post office for delivery.

I have been thinking about this system and I have my doubts. In the first place, if the machines can deliver a letter from New York to the Cameron post office, it won't be long before somebody wanting to move even further forward will figure out how to have it delivered electronically to my mail box, and I'm having trouble enough keeping my present mail box propped up without having to maintain an electronic brain machine alongside it.

In the second place, I don't even remember having received a letter on any day that I'd have been any better off or more informed if it had gotten to me two days earlier. Very few people have any thoughts or messages to convey to me that are that important. And I don't know of anybody, congressman, governor, sheriff, newspaper editor, who would be any better off or any more informed finding out what I think two days earlier than he can find out now. I take the position that if it takes me a week to think up an idea, anybody waiting on it can wait an extra day and not be hurt. In some cases he could never hear and be just as well off. And this things works vice versa.

It may be important to get a guided missile to its destination in thirty minutes, but very few thoughts are that devastating.

I think this country ought to move forward, even if it has to go around me to do it, but electronic mail service may not be in that category. I'm not interested in this country's spending money to get my monthly bills to me two days earlier than I'm getting them now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Back in the 1940's, I met a man who was reputed to be one of Texas' richest. He was an oil man and went in for raising and racing thoroughbreds.

His ranch was a showplace with gravaled roads, concrete crossings over streams and a fence high enough to keep the deer in and the hunters out. His home was a modest place as far as architecture went, although very attractive within, but the barn was a huge place with, I was told, $30,000 worth of copper in the gutters and pipes, and no doubt the cost of the other features was in proportion.

The second time I saw him, he was seated in his box at the New Orleans track where some of his entries — including an Irish horse for which he had reportedly paid $70,000 — were racing. He didn't rise but he put out a hand which I pumped up and down and a smile like a glint of sunshine on a rocky Vermont hill lighted up his features for a moment.

A mutual acquaintance said afterward, "You've made a hit with him."

"I have?" was my doubtful reply. "His manner didn't seem to me to be very warm."

"Oh," the other responded, "that was very cordial for him."

After thinking about it, I decided that a man with millions of dollars has to hold others at arms-length to keep them from "getting to him"; and what a lonely life a man must lead when he can't know whether an individual who seems happy to see him is interested in him for himself or for what he hopes to get out of him. And all his millions could not save him when he drove his automobile into the path of an onrushing train.

I once made a mistake (in fact I've missed a) — which resulted in my missing a big news story. One Sunday afternoon before reporting for work on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, I was driving around town and decided to motor to Grapevine, 20 miles away, but looked up at a clock and saw I had only a few minutes before time to go to work.

When I came in, the city editor said, "You're ahead of time."

I looked at the clock on the wall and saw it was a full hour before I was supposed to be there. I had mis-read the first clock.

Extra Profits Can Result From Well Kept Farm Business Records

COLLEGE STATION — Extra income can come from well kept farm or ranch records. Some errors in business decisions are unavoidable, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, but adequate records can often help farmers and ranchmen reduce the chance of wrong ones.

Records of 1960 operations may prove very helpful by showing the amount of income from various enterprises and total gross receipts indicating the total cash expenses and reflecting items of greatest outlay, aiding in determining depreciation deductions for tax purposes and reflecting the amount of net profit or loss for the year.

Profit or loss, says Bates, should be given attention before the end of the tax year for taxes may be saved or full benefit gained from allowed deductions resulting from tax planning decisions. Records are very useful when these decisions are made. Calendar year operators are reminded a clean-up is now in order.

Farmers tend to omit items of business expense during seasons when little profit is made. This should not be done, says Bates. It is important to show the entire loss. If a "net operating loss" occurs, the farmer or other taxpayer may be able to obtain a tax refund on operations for previous years. Complete records are needed to verify the loss.

Decisions covering the sale of livestock or other commodities in the current tax year may affect the amount of tax paid, Bates says. If an alternative will permit full benefit of this year's tax exemptions, the taxpayer may wish to use it. A summary of records will help clarify the decisions which can mean tax savings, points out the specialist.

Bates adds that local county extension agents have publications on record keeping which should prove helpful to farmers or ranchmen. He says the 1961 Farmers Tax Guide, provided by the Internal Revenue Service, should be available soon and recommends it as a valuable reference on tax questions. But, he concludes, good records make the entire job of farm or ranch management a lot easier.

Veterinarian Advises On Buying Breeding Gilts For Spring Crop

COLLEGE STATIO — Be cautious when you're buying gilts to breed for next spring's pig crop. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, warns that you should study the disease record of the herd very carefully before buying. Remember that even healthy appearing animals may carry a disease and new stock could bring on a disease which would result in abortions or inferior pigs at farrowing time.

At least four chronic diseases are serious, and other diseases are important. Leptospirosis and brucellosis are serious diseases which are not usually recognized until they cause abortions. Two serious diseases are atrophic rhinitis and virus pneumonia, both of which are not usually recognizable until the pigs are several weeks old. Enteritis and chronic erysipelas are also common diseases, Patterson continues.

Even if there is no record or evidence of disease in the herd, it's still a good idea to have the gilts tested for leptospirosis and brucellosis. Hogs can carry either of these diseases without showing symptoms, and both diseases can be transmitted to humans.

The only way to detect atrophic rhinitis is through a physical examination and this is not always easy or reliable. Dr. Patterson says to be alert for signs of atrophic rhinitis. Crooked snout, sneezing and stunted growth are indicators of the disease.

Chronic pneumonia has been an increasingly serious problem in swine for several years. A specific virus is the cause of much of this lung trouble. There is neither a reliable rest or treatment for the disease. It seldom causes death, but it does cause unthriftiness and increased susceptibility to other lung infections. Be extremely careful to avoid bringing it into a herd, the specialist advises.

Take care of parasites promptly. Parasites, especially mange and worms, which may cause little trouble in the gilts may cause serious trouble for the baby pigs. Roundworms can be controlled by proper measures, but it may take repeated applications. Spraying for external parasites should be done during warm weather if possible. Some of the newer chemical compounds will do a good job of controlling lice and mange.

Be sure to have the gilts vaccinated against erysipelas. And do not neglect to vaccinate for cholera — the most dangerous of all swine diseases, Dr. Patterson concludes.

Children's Book Week Observed November 13-19

November 13 - 19 marks the 42nd celebration of National Children's Book Week, sponsored by Children's Book Council, Inc., to promote love of books among children of all ages. Libraries, schools and bookstores everywhere join in spreading the contagion.

1966 Book Week takes as its slogan the phrase, "Hurray for Books!" The observance is being reflected in national media and in the speeches, plays and displays devoted to praise of the "endless fun, adventure, romance, laughter" in books. In fifty states and armed forces posts around the world, thousands of children will express what books mean to them in essays, poems, plays, and pictures.

The idea for Children's Book Week — to stimulate the enjoyment and use of books — originated with the late Franklin K. Mathews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts of America, who soon found an enthusiastic supporter in Frederick G. Melcher, the publisher. Together they enlisted the help of outstanding librarians and booksellers, and in 1919 the first Children's Book Week was held.

UNITED FUND DRIVE

A community is known by its friendliness. Many of the friendly people of Cameron have joined themselves together in putting across the North Milam United Fund drive for funds for use in 1961.

Those who work on the drive for funds are doing a hard job. They will not be successful unless the citizens of Cameron community give generously. Those who are charged with administration of the funds have the responsibility of seeing that the funds are spent wisely.

The goal for 1961 is $11,500. Let's all get active in the drive whether our job is to solicit funds or to provide the money so the good work can be carried forward.

A successful drive will be another way of showing that the Cameron community is a friendly community. If you are not asked personally for your gift, come forward and send it in or look up one of the people who are working as solicitors.

HOW ABOUT A FAMILY HARVEST

Have you noticed the changes being made in the food markets lately. It seems to me that it is much easier to find certain items . . . fresh or frozen turkeys, pumpkins, cranberries, chestnuts and other Thanksgiving treats.

It looks like some of the biggest fall harvest in Cameron will be made around the dining room table. That's true in more ways than one. Because, in addition to the good things to eat and share, Thanksgiving has always been a great family day.

If all of your family live in Cameron it's usually a simple matter to get together for Thanksgiving. If your family is scattered in different parts of the country, you can still "get together"—by telephone. The cost is low, and if you place your long distance call station-to-station, instead of person-to-person, you can save one-third. Rates are even lower if you call after 6 p.m.

Why not plan to call and make this Thanksgiving a "family harvest."

SCIENCE SHOW ON TELEVISION

In addition to the Telephone Hour, which brings you top artists in the field of music every other Friday evening on channel 6&7 at 8 p.m. November 25, I'd like to remind you of our new science program.

The first of the new series, "Thread of Life," tells the story of how we inherit our many and varied characteristics. This 60 minute color program will be Friday, December 9, on channel 6&7 at 8 p.m. I hope you'll be watching.

County Agents Notes

New Forages To Be Released

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Foundation seeds for two new forage varieties of rye, Gator and Elbon, will be released to certified growers in the fall of 1960. Both of these varieties have been tested for forage yields for 3 years by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Gator rye was developed from plant introductions from Uruguay, Argentina and Brazil. Early selection work was done in Florida, and Gator was approved for release by the Florida Experiment Station in 1956. Gator has an upright winter growth habit, it matures earlier than Abuzzi, it is resistant to leaf rust, stem rust and powdery mildew, it has large light brown seed and it makes good early forage production.

Elbon was developed by Roy Chessmore at the Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation, Inc., Ardmore, Okla. from seed presumed to be Abuzzi rye. This variety has an upright growth habit, intermediate height, large, soft stems, large brown seed, early production and early maturity.

Late fall and winter production of Gator and Elbon was good at all Texas test locations. These varieties produced about twice as much early forage as Mustang oats, and 200 to 300 lbs. more forage per acre than Alamo, a spring - type oat variety.

Gator is adapted for forage production where small grains are grown for forage, except possibly on the High Plains, where it has not been observed for cold tolerance. Elbon is adapted for forage production from Central Texas northward. It is not recommended for South Texas because of its susceptibility to leaf rust. L-500 contains further information on both of these rye varieties.

ies and is available at the county Extension office.

New Wheat Variety For South Texas - Foundation seed for Milam, a new hard red winter wheat variety, was released to seed growers in the summer of 1960, and seed should be available for 1961 fall planting. The new variety is a grain and forage wheat adapted for south Texas production.

Milam was developed by the Small Grains Section of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the USDA and Rockefeller Foundation Scientists in Mexico City. The new variety has been tested at several sub-stations in South Texas, and it has been found to be superior in yield and disease resistance to any variety now grown in that area.

Results of clipping tests, which simulate grazing, show that Milam offers a good source of winter pasture for livestock. Milam is less productive than Elbon rye and the upright - type oat varieties at early clipping dates, but it maintains good forage production throughout the winter and spring.

Quality tests were conducted using composites of seed grown in South Texas during three seasons. Milam produces a good loaf of bread, but it is not strong gluten wheat. Compared to Quanah, a high quality hard red winter wheat, Milam has a shorter mixing time and less tolerance to mixing. Since Milam will be grown principally for winter pasture, however, it is not expected that much grain will be milled.

Grain yields, forage yields, quality and agronomic characteristics of Milam are discussed further in Texas Agricultural Experiment Station leaflet L-501. This is also available at the county Extension office.

Machinery Inefficiency Can Decrease Profits For Farmers

COLLEGE STATION — Machinery inefficiency can strike a devastating blow to farm profits. Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that every farm operator should know the cost of owning and operating machinery. If he does not, he is in a poor position to determine how to increase his machinery efficiency, Parker continues.

Fixed costs, such as depreciation, interest on investment, insurance, taxes and housing may represent the largest expense associated with owning machinery. If the farm is large enough, however, these costs may be small on a per acre basis. Repair and maintenance may also involve a large cash outlay. High cost here can be caused by poor quality machinery, abuse by the operator, operating over rough terrain or a combination of these, Parker explains.

The specialist says other factors which affect machinery efficiency are: Substitution of machinery for labor. Whether or not substitution
